FOCUS ON FARMING

Many Conservation Program Options for Gratiot County Farmers

Gratiot County farmers managing land in the Pine River or the Shiawassee River Watersheds should be aware that there are several unique conservation programs available. In addition to the Saginaw Bay Watershed RCPP— whose contracts are administered by USDA-Natural Resources Conservation Service— two alternative conservation programs exist. These programs, the Sediment Reduction Pay-for-Performance (PfP) program, and the Water Replenishment PfP Program, offer flexible options and shorter-term contracts than traditional Farm Bill programs. Both take an innovative approach to incentivizing conservation practices. There are no set, per-acre payment rates. Instead, farmers are offered a lump sum payment based on the unique characteristics of their farmland.

For example, payments through the Sediment Reduction PfP program are based on the tonnage of soil saved by implementing practices that reduce soil erosion. Similarly, payments through the Water Replenishment PfP program, are based on the gallons of water that can be retained in the soil rather than running off the surface. Many of the same best management practices are available through both programs. However, implementing cover crops and residue management practices result in the highest payments in the Sediment Reduction program, while no-till and drainage water management result in the highest payments through the Water Replenishment PfP program.

Farmers in Gratiot County should be no stranger to the PfP concept. In 2014, the Gratiot Conservation District launched the Upper Bad River Watershed Sediment Reduction Program. This project was the first to test the pay for performance payment structure in the region, serving as the forerunner to the current Saginaw Bay PfP projects.

The map below displays the current availability of these Saginaw Bay Watershed Conservation Program options. These programs are available to eligible farmers from now until the spring of 2020. Payment contracts are available on a first come, first serve basis.

We hope you enjoy this famous Shepherd Maple Syrup. It all started in 1958 as a volunteer project with the plan to have the proceeds fund recreational activities in our community. It has grown from a pancake supper into a 3-day festival. All of the labor it takes to make and serve the syrup, candy, pancakes and sausage for the festival is donated by volunteers from our area. Please come join us at our Maple Syrup Festival, which is held annually during the last full weekend of April.

LONG'S HEARING IS THE PLACE TO GO.

Missy will do the very best for you. She "listens" to you. She is extremely knowledgeable about hearing problems. She will test you and make sure you get the right product. My product (which I didn't think I wanted after doing research before I went in) is amazing. It does fit above my ears, but I can wear my glasses with them. You can't tell I have hearing aids from looking at the front or the side of me! The controls are easy to use. And they have a built in "automatic" phone detector, so using the phone is easy now. The Aids are easy to put in and take out. I am amazed and extremely happy.

~ Judith Ann from Evert

I WOULD CHECK OUT LONG'S HEARING IN CADILLAC OR HOUGHTON LAKE.

I went to Cadillac and I am very glad now that I have to tell my wife to turn the TV down also I can hear the beautiful birds sing. What a blessing and I didn't have any insurance. I want to thank Long's Hearing.

~ Victor from Manton
