Every lawyer knows that as a sitting judge, I am bound by judicial ethics that prevent me from commenting on the facts or merits of any case, or discussing why I made particular rulings.

Mr. Hasting knows, or should know, that as a judicial candidate he is bound by those same ethical constraints, which prohibit him from cherry-picking his half-truths from specific cases.

WHAT I CAN SAY IS:

NOT ONCE in 23 years as an attorney in private practice did anyone question my personal or professional integrity or ethics.

NOT ONCE in 7 years as a prosecutor for the Cullman County District Attorney's Office did anyone question my personal or professional integrity or ethics.

NOT ONCE in 5 1/2 years as your Circuit Judge has anyone questioned my personal or professional integrity or ethics, until this election.

MR. HASTING has clearly decided that his only chance to be elected is not to offer himself as someone to vote for, but to try to make me someone to vote against.

IT IS UNDERSTANDABLE that Mr. Hasting does not want to run on his record. When running on his own merits, voters rejected him in attempts to be elected a District Judge; Circuit Judge; Member of the House of Representatives, District 11; and Member of the House of Representatives, District 9.

SIX YEARS AGO I promised you that I would be fair, honest and use my experience to be a judge you can be proud of. I have kept those promises and will continue to always conduct myself ethically and honestly. I will never attempt to mislead you or deceive you to get votes because honesty and integrity matter.

Re-Elect!

Although the clinical efficacy of antidepressants in children and adolescents is proven, it is frequently accompanied by side effects. In addition, the influence of the placebo effect on the efficacy of antidepressants is unclear. A meta-analysis of data from over 6,500 patients has now shown that, although antidepressants are more effective than placebos, the difference is minor and varies according to the type of mental disorder. The results were published in the journal JAMA Psychiatry. The most common mental disorders in children and adolescents include anxiety disorders, depressive disorders, obsessive compulsive disorder, and posttraumatic stress disorder. Children and adolescents are often treated with psychotherapy together with newer antidepressants such as selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors (SNRIs). Psychologists analyzed 36 drug trials. The trials included data from 6,778 children and adolescents up to the age of 18. According to the study, the effects of antidepressants and placebos vary according to the type of mental disorder: antidepressants have a greater specific effect in the case of anxiety disorders than depressive disorders. On the other hand, placebos have a stronger effect in depressed patients than in those with an anxiety disorder.

A new study published by the scientific journal Addiction has found no reliable evidence for using nalmefene, naltrexone, acamprosate, baclofen or topiramate to control drinking in patients with alcohol dependence or alcohol use disorder. At best, some treatments showed low to medium efficacy in reducing drinking, but those findings were from studies with a high risk of bias. None demonstrated any benefit on health outcomes. SHOP TODAY'S LOW PRICE TAGS:

We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:

Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.

Absolutely nothing has more value than the gift of eternal life by the Holy Father Elohim given through Christ (Jn 5:22)! Many so-called Christian preachers teach children man's theories into a faith given by their church's power that they have already received this gift by grace, not of works, and will go straight to heaven (Gen 3:1-24, Ecclesiastes 12:13-14, Mt 15:9). This is denial of Christ and His Holy Judgement day (Mt 12:36), which strengthens the hands of the wicked causing them not to repent (Ezek 13:22). The Holy Bible: who exalts themselves will be abased and who abase themselves will be exalted. So Be It!

SPECIAL THANK YOU FOR MORNINGSIDE OF CULLMAN

SHOP TODAY'S LOW PRICE TAGS:
We have HUNDREDS of non-advertised items marked down throughout our entire store. More savings passed on to our customers. Just look for blue tags on the shelves.

NO LIMITS:
Our competitors also have advertised specials. The difference is, in most cases, they have a limit on how many of an item you can buy at the sale price...we don't have any limits to family shoppers.
