An Old Prospector

An old prospector shuffled into the town of El Indio, Texas leading a tired old mule.

The old man headed straight for the only saloon in town, to clear his parched throat.

He walked up to the saloon and tied his old mule to the hitch rail.

As he stood there, brushing some of the dust from his face and clothes, a young gunslinger stepped out of the saloon with a gun in one hand and a bottle of whisky in the other.

The young gunslinger looked at the old man and laughed, saying, "Hey old man, can you dance?"

The old man looked up at the gunslinger and said, "No son, I don't dance . . . never really wanted to."

A crowd had gathered as the gunslinger grinned and said, "Well, you old fool, you're gonna dance now!" and started shooting at the old man's feet.

The old prospector, not wanting to get a toe blown off, started hopping around like a flea on a hot skillet.

Everybody standing around was laughing.

When his last bullet had been fired, the young gunslinger, still laughing, holstered his gun and turned around to go back into the saloon.

The old man turned to his pack mule, pulled out a double-barreled 12 gauge shotgun and cocked both hammers.

The loud clicks carried clearly through the desert air. The crowd stopped laughing immediately.

The young gunslinger heard the sounds too, and he turned around very slowly.

The silence was deafening. The crowd watched as the young gunman stared at the old timer and the large gaping holes of those twin 12 gauge barrels.

The barrels of the shotgun never wavered in the old man's hands, as he quietly said;

"Son, have you ever kissed a mule's bottom?"

The gunslinger swallowed hard and said, "No sir . . . but . . . but I've always wanted to."

There are a few lessons for all of us here:

- * Don't be arrogant.
- * Don't waste ammunition.
- * Whisky makes you think you're smarter than you are.
- * Always make sure you know who is in control.
- * And finally, don't mess around with old folks; they didn't get old by being stupid.

I just love a story with a happy ending, don't you?

God's Pit Crew

For your help with the big mess left in my yard by last week's tornado. Our community is so blessed to have these organizations and volunteers who have been so helpful to me and my neighbors.

Kathy C., Publisher, The Piedmont Shopper

Pastor Brad Childress of Woodlawn Baptist Church brought rakes to the Liberty University volunteers cleaning up the yard. These young people were so inspiring the way they worked and even said a prayer for us before leaving.

Several guys from God's Pit Crew brought saws and equipment and made short work of the huge tree stumps in the yard uprooted by the tornado last week. It was fascinating to watch these guys work! They know what they are doing for sure.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You've set a fast pace for yourself. But as you approach your goal, you might want to slow down a bit in order to take time to reassess your situation and make changes while you can.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Patience continues to be a virtue for the Divine Bovine. So as eager as you might be to get things moving, remember that time is on your side. Make good use of it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) There's a wee bit of uncertainty in the early part of the week. But things clear up as more facts come to light. Spend quality time this weekend with family and friends.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) An old friend's return could open new possibilities for both of you. But don't let yourself be rushed into anything. There could be some factors you haven't yet explored.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This week offers a challenge you're raring to take on. And while eager to get started, do so slowly so that you can focus those sharp Cat's Eyes on every detail.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Put your skepticism aside and listen to advice from colleagues who've been where you are now. What they say could be helpful as you get closer to a decision.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A family matter might again require your reassuring touch. Handle it, as always, with kindness and fairness, even if some of your kin prove to be especially difficult.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Your ability to tackle even the most intricate details of a project is likely to impress some very important people. A relative shares news later this week.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) The Archer's aim might be focused on the big picture this week, but don't overlook checking for those details you might have missed.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel awkward asking for assistance, but who would refuse the charming Goat's request? Do it, then go ahead and enjoy a musical weekend.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Pour some cold water on that simmering misunderstanding before it boils over. The sooner things settle, the sooner you can move ahead with your plans.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) You're in a highly productive period, which you feel can go on forever. But you could be courting exhaustion. Take time out to relax and restore your energies.

BORN THIS WEEK: You can combine a sense of adventure with a penchant for practicality. Have you considered a travel-related field?

PIEDMONT PETS

April 26, 2018
By Paulette Dean

Millions of lost dogs and cats enter shelters each year, and relatively few are returned to the owner, unless that owner has been diligent about providing an easy way home for the animal. In Virginia, shelters and rescue groups are required by law to make a reasonable effort to contact owners within 48 hours of an animal's arrival in their facility, if the animal has some form of identification on it.

State and local dog license laws are supposed to help return lost dogs to their owner, but very few localities require the licensing of cats. In addition, collars and tags can easily get lost. What, then, can an owner do to increase the odds that their beloved missing pet can be found and returned home?

At the shelter, we keep a lost and found registry of animals, but that system also has weaknesses. What an owner describes to us may not be what we see in an animal.

If your lost pet is picked up by a citizen, and not taken to the public facility, the chances of being reunited with that animal are significantly decreased. This has become an increasingly common problem with the popularity of posting a found or lost animal on social media. The public animal shelter is still the best place to notify if your animal is missing or if you have found one.

A tiny transponder, called a microchip, the size of a grain of uncooked rice may solve many of these problems. This is a permanent identification system implanted under the animal's skin and read by a chip scanner. Implantation is done with an injector that places the chip under the loose skin between the shoulder blades.

The advantages are numerous. The process is quick and no more painful than a vaccination. (Well, at least that is what the microchip companies tell us. I had my dog, Wally, microchipped while he was asleep for the neutering surgery.) The chip does not get lost, and a simple procedure with a scanner alerts a shelter that a microchip has been inserted. The owner's name and address can be registered on a national or regional database.

The microchip, registered in a database with the owner's information, is proof positive that the animal has an owner. The chip identification number is stored in a tiny transponder that can be read through the animal's skin by a scanner emitting low-frequency radio waves. The frequency is picked up by a tiny antenna in the transponder, and the number is retrieved, decoded, and displayed in the scanner readout window. The radio waves use a frequency much lower than AM broadcast stations use, and they must be approved by the Federal Communications Commission before they can be marketed.

Our scanner can detect any domestic microchip; we absolutely love it when an animal comes to us with a microchip. We strongly urge everyone to protect your pet by having your dog or cat microchipped.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was famed journalist and news anchor Edward R. Murrow who made the following sage observation: "Just because your voice reaches halfway around the world doesn't mean you are wiser than when it reached only to the end of the bar."

* Thomas Jefferson was an inventor as well as a statesman, but he refused to take out patents on any of his ideas. He believed that inventions should benefit all of humanity, not just himself.

* Many people know American counterculture figure Ken Kesey as the author of the 1962 novel "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," which presents a disturbing portrait of life in a mental institution. It's less well known, though, that Kesey got an inside view of the system when he worked as a janitor in a mental hospital before he became famous.

* Those who study such things say that a typical newspaper contains just 30 percent editorial content -- 70 percent of the paper you buy is taken up by advertising.

* The last country in the world to get telephones was the South Asian nation of Bhutan, and both television and the Internet were banned there until 1999. Incidentally, Bhutan also is the only nation in the world in which the well-being of the citizens is so important that the government measures the country's Gross National Happiness.

* The Beatles was not the first band in which John Lennon played. Those previous groups obviously didn't work out, though; in fact, at one point Lennon broke a washboard over a bandmate's head during a dispute. After the Beatles' success, though, Lennon apologized in style: He bought the poor guy a supermarket.

* In Germany, Rice Krispies don't say "Snap, Crackle, Pop"; they say "Knisper, Knasper, Knusper."

Thought for the Day: "A hick town is one in which there is no place to go where you shouldn't be." -- Alexander Woollcott

The Month of April is National Safe Digging Month Danville Utilities offers the Following Safety Tips

APRIL IS NATIONAL SAFE DIGGING MONTH

Danville Utilities wants to remind you that it is STATE LAW to call 811 before you start digging around your property for that spring project. When you call 811 a professional locator will come out to your property and locate all underground utilities that you may not know about, such as buried water, phone, electric, and gas lines. This service is free and can help you avoid a costly and possible dangerous excavation accident. When you call you must wait the required time (3 days) before digging, so plan ahead. Call by Tuesday to dig on Saturday.

Remember to always call before you dig, no matter how large or small your project is, if you dig you must call.

CARBON MONOXIDE

Incomplete combustion of any fuel produces carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide is poisonous and has no odor, taste or color. Carbon monoxide detectors are very helpful in the detection of this harmful gas but they are no substitute for using gas burning appliances or appliances properly. This includes having them serviced and inspected once a year by a certified contractor.

Possible symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning;

- Dull headache
- Weakness
- Dizziness
- Nausea and vomiting
- Chest pain
- Confusion
- Impaired judgment and irritability

WHAT TO DO IF YOU SUSPECT A GAS LEAK

- Look for blowing dirt or continued bubbling of standing water.
- Listen for loud hissing or roaring sound near natural gas appliances or lines.
- Smell for the distinctive rotten-egg scent, act even if it is a small amount.
- Leave the area at once if you detect a leak. Do not try to locate or fix the leak.
- Call Danville Utilities at 434-799-5284 or 911 once you are safely away from the area. Stay away until a Danville Utilities representative or emergency personnel indicate it is safe.
- Remember while near a possible gas leak, do not touch or use anything that could cause a spark, such as lighters, matches, flashlights, light switches and telephones including cell phones.

DCC Marketing Students Attend International Furniture Show

Danville, Va., April 20, 2018 – Danville Community College Marketing students traveled to High Point, N.C., this week to tour the International Home Show.

The High Point Market, which is closed to the general public and only open to students by invitation, is the largest furnishings industry trade show in the world with more than 2,000 manufacturers and exhibitors displaying their products across 11.5 million square feet of show space spread through 180 buildings. The show, held twice a year, traditionally brings more than 75,000 furniture manufacturers, retailers and home designers from over 100 countries to High Point with each show. While at the show, DCC students were able to witness buyers and sellers conducting inventory purchasing transactions. During gaps in business dealings, DCC students had the opportunity to speak with several international business manufacturers and representatives and have one-on-one question and answer exchanges on best practices for merchandise buying, selling, and inventory control. In addition, several businesses' spokespersons graciously shared their personal expertise and philosophies of best practices in inventory management.

A 2013 Duke University study found that the High Point Market generates more than $5.39 billion in economic impact to the overall regional economy (the counties within a 75-mile radius from downtown High Point, including bordering counties in Virginia).

"A Wandering Soul"

He told me his name, or at least what he claimed it to be. These days, who knows? It was a Friday, and my family and I determined to take the day off, our first one in many weeks. But as is seemingly always the case, we somehow ended up needing to come to the church for a few hours anyway.

We saw him when we began to pull up the driveway; he was carrying a backpack and appeared to be in his mid-20s. As I exited the car, leaving my family locked inside, I greeted him and asked if I could help him. He was lost, he said, and needed a ride into the city. How exactly, I wondered, does an individual get lost on Highway 74 miles from anywhere that remotely resembles a city?

Nonetheless, I had him wait there, then I took my wife and kids inside. A few moments later I came back out and gave him a ride into town, eight miles away. Yes, believe me, martial arts training and gun in pocket notwithstanding, I know how dangerous that is. And no, I would never fault anyone for not doing as I did. The world has become a very dangerous place, and people rightly feel the need to be incredibly careful. But for whatever reason, I felt strongly impressed by the Holy Spirit to give the young man a ride, and so I did.

He was a wanderer, and a wandering soul. He had no direction geographically or spiritually.

Obedying the Lord in that matter, though, gave me the opportunity to talk to a clearly troubled young man about the Lord. Is there anything more important than that? It was just a 15 minute ride, but God gave me 15 minutes to tell someone what Jesus could do for him. Looking back, that may very well have been the most important 15 minutes of my day, and maybe the most important 15 minutes of that young man's eternity.

As a pastor and evangelist, I am often confronted with people who are wrestling with some of the deep philosophical questions of life. Normally, though the questions are numerous, they can be boiled down to just one: what is our purpose in life? Since we did not just happen, since we are the special design of God and not the random fluke of evolution, we humans do, in fact, have a purpose.

And for the born again child of God especially, that purpose is not at all vague; it is actually very specific. It is not something we must struggle to ascertain; God informed us of it in no uncertain terms.

Matthew 28:19-20 says, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you alway, even unto the end of the world. Amen."

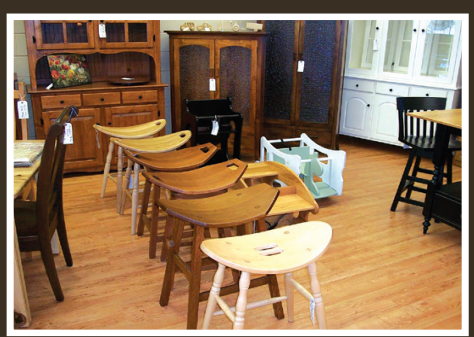

Mark 16:15 says, "And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature."

It is called the Great Commission. It is God's command that believers in Christ intentionally evangelize the world, both those that we seek after, and those that God himself in his providence brings across our paths.

I will likely not know until I get to heaven what became of my passenger on that day, but I prayed for him, hard. He is a precious soul that the Lord loves, so much so that he died for him. He is so very dear to the Lord that God redirected our plans for a day off and had us show up at the church just in time to meet him.

I will very likely not see the young man again until we are in eternity. And it is my hope that then, he will be carrying a crown to cast at Jesus' feet rather than a backpack to get him to the next shelter.

FAVORITE RECIPES

THE BEST BREAD PUDDING

Ingredients

- 1 quart (4 cups) heavy cream
- 15 eggs
- 1½ cups white sugar
- 2 tablespoons cinnamon
- 1 tablespoons vanilla extract
- 1½ cups firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 French baguettes

Sauce:

- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1 cup (2 sticks) butter
- 2 cups brown sugar

Instructions

Mix the cream, eggs, white sugar, cinnamon and vanilla together very well in a very large bowl.

Slice the baguettes lengthwise then cut into 1" pieces.

Soak the bread in the cream mixture in the refrigerator overnight, covered.

Spray a 9x13 casserole dish with pan spray or coat with butter.

Layer in the soaked bread but not all the cream mixture. Discard the remaining cream mixture.

Leave the bread about ½" from the top so it has room to rise when baking.

Cover the top with brown sugar and bake at 325 for 45 minutes, then start checking and remove when center is set.

For the Sauce:

Melt butter then add brown sugar and bring to a boil.

Add the cream and stir very well then set aside.

When the bread pudding is ready let it cool for 15 minutes then pour the sauce over the top so it can soak in. You may not need all of the sauce.

Play Better Golf with JACK NICKLAUS

TOURNAMENT PROS CAN OFTEN HIT FINE RECOVERY SHOTS FROM LIGHT ROUGH WITH LONG IRONS - PARTICULARLY PLAYERS WITH UPRIGHT SWING PLANES.

THE ODDS FOR AVERAGE GOLFERS, HOWEVER, ARE MUCH BETTER WITH HEAVILY LOFTED WOODEN CLUBS. THEIR HEAVIER HEADS HELP AND SO DO THEIR ROUNDED SOLES, CUTTING THROUGH TALL GRASS MUCH MORE EASILY THAN THE STRAIGHT LEADING EDGES OF THE LONG IRONS.
