Your Jesus is Here in the Holy Eucharist Talk to Him!

Dear Heart of Jesus:
In the past, I have asked many favors. This time, I ask you this very special one. Take it dear Jesus and place it within your own broken heart, where your father sees it. Then, in your merciful eyes, it will become your favor, not mine.

Say for 3 days and promise publication.

INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF ELECTRICAL WORKERS - PROVIDENCE, RI
IBEW LOCAL 99

Open-Shop Electrical Contractors, Your Time is Now!

For the past several years IBEW Local 99 has been actively recruiting, testing and welcoming into our Local: Apprentices, Journeymen Wiremen, Tele-com Techs and Contractors.

That effort has been an amazing success. We now have a database of many unrepresented hard working men and women who will be coming in the Union. Many of these people currently work in parts of the industry that the IBEW has historically not been as prevalent in, such as Residential and Light commercial.

We are now looking to expand our recruitment of high quality and ethical open shop contractors that specialize in that type of work.

Discover the value IBEW can have for your company:

- You pay nothing to the Union to sign with us!
- Immediate access to indentured apprentices!
- 1-1000 qualified Men and Women available with a single phone call!
- IBEW quickly becoming the main source of manpower in the Northeast!
- Flexible rates for non-traditional work!
- Your partner in protecting the industry!
- The safest and most productive workforce in the industry!
- The undisputed best training facility and staff in the industry!
- Complete flexibility in Staffing!
- Access to General Contractors and Bidding Opportunities!
- Free Benefit Management!
- Contractor Training and Support!

We are looking for only the best in manpower and contractors. If you are a great contractor, we should be talking to you now. There are many very unsatisfied craftspeople looking for a better life who are available right now and ready to move to your company!

Moments in time
 THE HISTORY CHANNEL

- On May 7, 1789, President George Washington attends a ball in his honor. The event provided a model for the first official inaugural ball, which later became an annual tradition. The record number of inaugural balls attended in one night by a president is 15, set by President Bill Clinton in 1997.
- On May 11, 1947, the B.F. Goodrich Company announces it has developed a tubeless tire, a technological innovation that would make automobiles safer and more efficient. In 1952, Goodrich won patents, and the tubeless tire quickly became standard on most new automobiles.
- On May 13, 1958, anti-American demonstrators pelt then-Vice President Richard Nixon's limousine with rocks in Caracas, Venezuela. Despite warnings not to send Nixon to Venezuela, where anti-American sentiment ran particularly high, he went anyway.
- On May 12, 1963, Bob Dylan walks out on "The Ed Sullivan Show" after network censors rejected the song he planned to perform, "Talkin' John Birch Paranoid Blues." Sullivan had heard the song days before and had no concerns.
- On May 9, 1971, the last original episode of the sitcom "The Honey-mooners," starring Jackie Gleason, airs. Although a perennial rerun favorite in syndication, only 39 episodes actually aired.
- On May 8, 1984, the Soviet Union announces that it will boycott the 1984 Olympics in Los Angeles. It was a response to the United States' decision to boycott the 1980 Moscow games. Thirteen other communist nations also refused to compete.
- On May 10, 1990, the government of the People's Republic of China announces the release of 211 people arrested during the massive protests held in Tiananmen Square in Beijing in June 1989. Observers viewed it as an attempt by China to dispel much of the terrible publicity it received for its brutal suppression of the 1989 protests.

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Talk To Your Children About School Bus Safety

(NAPSA)—If you take a look around the neighborhood, you'll see the yellow school buses are out in full force, driving their way through another school year. And while today's school buses are the safest, most technologically advanced they have ever been, parents still need to take a moment to talk to their children about school bus safety.

"The most important school bus safety rule parents should share with their children is to make sure the driver can see you at all times," says Gary Catapano, senior vice president of safety for First Student, the nation's largest provider of school transportation. "That means staying 10 giant steps away from the outside of the bus and always sitting in your seat properly when inside the bus."

Bus Safety Tips

Parents, please share these other important school bus safety tips with your children:

- Never run after the bus. If you drop something near the bus, don't pick it up. Instead, ask the driver for help.
- If you have to cross in front of the bus, wait until the driver lets you know it's OK.
- When crossing the street after getting off the bus, always look both ways and keep an eye out for other vehicles on the road.
- Wait for the bus to stop completely before you approach it to get on or before you stand up to get off.
- Once on the bus, stay in your seat and talk or laugh quietly with friends. Don't scream—it distracts the driver. Never put your head or arms, or dangle anything, out the window.

Children should know the rules of school bus safety.

Bus Safety Features

Parents should also know that today's modern school buses have many advanced safety features to make their children's ride a safe one:

- Global positioning systems (GPS) that inform dispatchers of the exact location and speed of a school bus at any time. It also provides a record of each bus' route and all its stops, starts and passes.
- An electronic reminder system that aids drivers in checking for sleeping children at the end of each route.
- Well-anchored seats with heavily padded, high backs to absorb impact and create a protective area.

Remember, riding a school bus is the safest way for children to get to and from school. For more information about school bus safety, visit www.firststudentinc.com.

The Garden Bug

Tree roots

The stability of a tree, and of any other trees around it, depends on the strength of its roots. This is most visible on the edge of forests, where the outside trees are more likely to fall. In the first several years of growth, most trees develop tap roots to provide initial stabilization; over time, lateral roots develop that extend horizontally like the spokes of a wheel. These provide support for the tree, and resistance to being blown over in windstorms. - Brenda Weaver

New DVDs Reviewed in This Column Will be Released the Week of April 23, 2018

COUCH THEATER DVD PREVIEWS
 BY AMY ANDERSON

Hostiles (R) — It's 1892, and an unsympathetic Army captain (Christian Bale) is ordered to trek from New Mexico to Montana to return a Cheyenne chief (Wes Studi) to his lands to die. The party includes the chief's son (Adam Beach) and other family members. They encounter a young widow (Rosamund Pike) whose family has been slaughtered by Comanches. "Hostiles" offers an unforgiving look at settler life and Indian relations, and we are not spared the gore or strife along the way. Although it's set on the plains, this is no cowboys and Indians Western. It's a violent film about violent times. The characters are damaged goods, raw and shaken by the tragic consequences of war.

Paddington takes a series of odd jobs in a hilarious attempt to earn money to buy the book, but it is stolen and he is framed. The cast of characters is rich: Hugh Grant as Phoenix Buchanan, an aging actor in desperate straits, for starters, plus Brendan Gleeson, Julie Walters, Jim Broadbent, Michael Gambon, Joanna Lumley and director Paul King. What you end up with is a heartwarming classic that's as sweet as a marmalade sandwich.

Maze Runner: Death Cure (PG-13) — We first met Thomas (Dylan O'Brien) in "The Maze Runner," where he was dropped in the middle of a fortress of a maze and, along with a group of compatriots, battled to make it out. Two films later, the situation is reversed, and to save their friends, those same young men must fight to make it into the Last City, home of the evil WCKD organization that mazed them in the first place. Civilization is infected with a virus known as Flare, and their immunity to this virus makes them both targets and potential saviors. Many reprised roles in this finale film (Ki Hong Lee, Kaya Scodelario, Dexter Darden, Thomas Brodie-Sangster) will thrill fans of the series, but it's a lot to take on for someone unfamiliar with the backstory.

Scene from "Paddington 2"

Zombies (TV-G) — The Disney Channel continues its string of hits with the original movie "Zombies," starring Milo Manheim as Zed, an ebullient Zombie kid, and Meg Donnelly as Addison, a cheerleading charmer. "What could go so wrong with a girl and a Zombie?" you ask. In the post-apocalypse town of Seabrook, Zombies are segregated and regulated for the safety of the suburbanite residents, but this happens to be the year that Zombies are allowed to attend the local prepatist high school. It's one part Romeo and Juliet love story, one part celebration of triumphing over our differences, with a sprinkling of super-cute song and dance numbers that will have you bopping along.

Paddington 2 (PG) — Now that Paddington bear (voiced by Ben Whishaw) is comfortably installed with the Brown family (Hugh Bonneville and Sally Hawkins), he has his eye on a delightful pop-up book in a local antiques store, meant as a present for Aunt Lucy's 100th birthday.

Smart Shipping And Storage Suggestions

When making up a package for shipping or storing, remember to tape it shut—flaps taped down along the middle and on both ends over the corners—and reinforce the seams with a good-quality clear tape.

(NAPSA)—Whether you're sending gifts for the holidays, packing for a move or storing keepsakes, heeding a few hints on how to prepare things for shipping and storage can help your package stay safe and intact.

Packing Tips
 •First, choose a strong, rigid carton made of high-quality corrugated cardboard, preferably double walled to ensure strength, durability and protection. Be sure it has enough room for the cushioning material around the contents. If you're reusing a box for shipping, cover up or black out any old labels and markings.

•Next, place plenty of cushioning around your items. Wrap each item separately within the carton with protective cushioning. Don't let any items touch the walls of the carton. Close and gently shake the box to see whether there is enough padding. If you hear items moving around as you shake the box, add more newspaper, packing foam or plastic material to secure the package.

•Before you ship or store your stuff away, make two lists of what's in the box. Put one inside the box and then tape the other to the outside, so you know what's in which container and what not to overlook when you open one.

•Tape your box shut and reinforce the seams with quality tape. Don't use cord, string or twine, which can get caught in mail processing equipment. Fortunately, you can now get a tape that is almost three inches wide, so packages can be secured with just one strip of tape. Gorilla Shipping Tape also has a 3.4-mil construction, which makes it thicker, tougher and wider than other tapes. Plus, it's water and temperature resistant, so it stands up to the elements—whether you're shipping a package across the country or storing a box in a humid attic. It comes on an easy-to-grip, quiet dispenser, and the tape cuts easily for smooth dispensing.

•If traveling for a holiday or visit, ship packages and boxes ahead of time to save space in your luggage.

KOVELS® Antiques & Collecting

By Terry and Kim Kovel

Wiinblad Chair
Many artists don't create just pictures or sculptures. They make furniture, jewelry, dinnerware or even kitchen tools and toys. In the 1920s and '30s, there was a new title for these multi-talented artists: industrial designer. They redesigned existing large machines like trains or trucks, and small household goods like telephones and clocks. The result was better-looking objects that were less expensive to make.

This very modern-looking chair is part of a dining-room set designed by Bjorn Wiinblad in 1970. The six chairs and matching table sold in 2016 for $1,875.

Collectors today may not have space in their homes for the largest industrial machines, but they can find examples of smaller decorative items by these famous men. A few designers to look for are Russel Wright (dinnerware, furniture, aluminum); Henry Teague (Kodak camera); Henry Dreyfuss (telephone); Lurelle Guild (aluminumware, vacuum cleaner); Viktor Schreckengost (Cowan pottery, pedal cars, dinnerware); and Bjorn Wiinblad (posters, furniture, dinnerware and tapestries).
At a summer Rago auction in Lambertville, New Jersey, a 1970s Wiinblad table and six matching chairs sold for $1,875. The black lacquered pieces had a different colorful modern design on each chair back and tabletop. They are large examples of Wiinblad's talent. But his ashtrays and dishes, decorated with drawings of round-faced people in pseudo 19th-century clothes and often surrounded by vines, floral wreaths and trees, can be found online and in shops for less than $50.

Q. I found four vintage baseball cards glued to the bottom of a dresser that I bought at an estate sale. The players are "Pete" Appleton, "Line Drive" Nelson, "Hank" Greenberg and "Red" Kress. I'm not a collector. Are they worth anything?

A. Your baseball cards are part of the 1940 set by Play Ball and issued by Gum, Inc., a Philadelphia company that made Blony bubble gum. It was the largest bubble-gum producer in the United States. Play Ball baseball cards were included with the gum from 1929 to 1941. The 1940 set included 240 different cards. In 1948 Gum, Inc. became Bowman, which was bought by Topps Chewing Gum in 1956. Your cards are of little value because they were glued to the dresser and are in poor condition. Cards for Appleton, Kress and Nelson are worth about $5, if in poor condition. Hank Greenberg's card is worth more because he's in the Hall of Fame. It's worth about $30 in good condition and half that in poor condition.

CURRENT PRICES
Fairy lamp, Fenton, dogwood, domed, glass center, folded rim base, Burmese, 6 inches, $70.
Wrought-iron gate, stylized peacock feathers, architectural, 2 doors, c. 1900, 45 x 45 inches, $360.
Sewing box, musical, empire, sat-inwood, hinged serpentine dome lid, swing handle, 1800s, 3 x 8 inches, $1,020.
Lounge chair, fried-egg shape, teak and upholstery, Hans Olsen, asymmetrical, 1956, 41 inches, $6,880.

A Little Knowledge Can Make A Big Difference

(NAPSA)—When it comes to pinpointing potentially serious issues with your vehicle, your nose may know more than you realize. For example, the smell of burnt toast might be a sign of an electrical short. The smell of rotten eggs may signal trouble with the emissions system, which includes the catalytic converter.

These and other tips are included in "Knowledge Is Power," a booklet that's part of a car-care and maintenance clinic developed by ACDelco. It gives vehicle owners easy-to-understand information about their vehicles so they can be informed and make the right choices when they visit an independent auto service center.

Here are some things you may not know about your vehicle:

- Reddish stains on the driveway can be a sign of a transmission oil leak.

- If your technician asks if your vehicle's brakes are "grabbing," he wants to know if the brakes engage suddenly when you apply steady pressure to the brake pedal.

- You should pull over immediately if your temperature light reads in the hot zone. That probably means your vehicle's coolant is too hot to cool your engine.

- Many brake pads have wear indicators. If your vehicle has them, they will emit loud squeals when they detect wear.

- It's a good idea to write down your vehicle's symptoms before visiting a repair shop, including noises—and whether these occur when the engine is hot or cold.

- Air bags work with your safety belts, not as a replacement for them.

- Children under 13 should ride properly secured in the rear seat.

It's a good idea to write down your vehicle's symptoms before visiting a repair shop, including noises—and whether these occur when the engine is hot or cold.

- Always keep at least a half tank of gas in your vehicle to avoid potential damage to your fuel filter or fuel line.

- Check your tire pressure frequently for safety and fuel economy. Hot and cold outside temperatures affect the pressure in your tires.

- Avoid oil and fuel additives unless recommended by your service consultant.

- Don't use dish detergent to wash your car; it can hurt clear-coat finishes.

The "Knowledge Is Power" booklet is part of a presentation kit available to shops at no charge. Consumers can download the free booklet at www.acdelco.com/pdf/CAR-Maintenance-Car-Care-Knowledge-Is-Power-ACDelco.pdf.

For more than 100 years, ACDELCO has been supplying parts, technical training and business expertise to independent auto service centers. vitamins A and C, iron, calcium and fiber. They also contain a substance that prevents the formation of blood clots. Eating onions helps to lower blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

To prepare the spring onions, cut off the roots and peel away the outer layer to remove any lingering dirt. Next, rinse the leaves, spreading them gently with your fingers to get at the dirt in the crevices. Both parts are edible. Although the white bulb is listed most often as part of recipes, the green leaves also should be incorporated into recipes and as a garnish.

Use the leaves to add a wonderful burst of green color, to tie up appetizers into a package or to use as a frilly, edible garnish. To curl the ends, cut off the roots and all but about 3 inches of the green tops. Slice the tops lengthwise down from the green end into the white section. Put the leaves in cold water and chill for several hours to curl them.

While spring onions are best served raw, they're also delicious grilled or sauteed. They should be added during the final stages of a recipe for maximum flavor. This recipe is a showcase for two vegetables that will brighten up your dinner plate with the colors and flavors of spring!

SAUTEED SPRING ONIONS WITH ASPARAGUS

- 2 pounds green asparagus with pencil-thin stalks
- 1 whole bunch of spring onions or green onions, root bottoms removed and discarded
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 1 tablespoon unsalted butter
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tablespoon dried Italian seasoning
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ground black pepper

- Trim the woody bottoms from the asparagus and discard. Slice asparagus diagonally into thirds and set aside. Slice spring onions or green onions in 1/4-inch slices and set aside.
- Add the olive oil and the butter to a medium pan over medium heat. When the butter begins to bubble, add the spring onions, garlic and Italian seasoning, and saute until the onions begin to soften, about 2-4 minutes.
- Add the asparagus and sprinkle the vegetables with the salt and black pepper. Combine the ingredients and saute, uncovered for 7-10 minutes or until the asparagus can be pierced easily with a fork.

In The Garden

Invite Hummingbirds And Butterflies To Your Garden

(NAPSA)—Butterflies and hummingbirds can add magic to any garden, and it's easy to invite them in. Just select the right plants—butterflies like bright colors while hummingbirds and butterflies both like blooms with plenty of nectar.

Easy-to-grow plants that attract pollinators include butterfly bushes, Rose of Sharon, and Weigela.

Butterfly bush (Buddleia) is a favorite of butterflies and hummingbirds. The sweet fragrance and bright summer flowers are appealing to people, too. Unfortunately, traditional butterfly bush varieties have a tendency to get overgrown and leggy. Regular pruning is often needed to keep them in check.

New Lo & Behold 'Blue Chip' Buddleia is a miniature butterfly bush with all the fragrance and butterfly appeal of older varieties but in a smaller package.

It stays just 24"-30" tall and wide without any pruning, and produces abundant lavender blue flowers from midsummer to frost. This continuously blooming butterfly magnet does not need dead-heading, and makes a fantastic low-maintenance mass planting. A noninvasive hybrid, Blue Chip is perfect for anyone who wants to attract butterflies and hummingbirds but doesn't have space for a big plant. It can be incorporated into container gardens.

While not as petite as Blue Chip, 'Miss Ruby' is a compact new variety with intense flower color. Its vivid magenta flowers are richer and brighter than those of other varieties. Miss Ruby matures to approximately 4'-5' tall and wide, not as small as Blue Chip but much more manageable than the 6'-8' range of many older varieties.

These new varieties are easy to grow in full sun and are hardy to USDA Zone 5. Butterfly bushes tolerate most moist, well-drained soils. Buddleia may be trimmed back in later winter or early spring, although pruning is usually not necessary with these new varieties.

Rose of Sharon (Hibiscus syriacus) is another easy-to-grow plant that attracts butterflies and hummingbirds. They bloom in mid-to late summer and are available in a wide variety of colors.

The pure white of White Chif-fon is especially nice in the evening, while gardeners looking for deep color will appreciate the rich violet of Violet Satin.

Check out the assortment at www.provenwinners.com to see which variety best suits your color scheme. All Rose of Sharon varieties do best in full sun.

Weigela are even more diverse in size, shape, color and foliage. Wine & Roses is popular for attracting hummingbirds. Fine Wine is a smaller version of this favorite, and dwarf Midnight Wine is smaller yet.

My Monet is another miniature Weigela. Its green and white variegated leaves often blush pink to match its pink spring flowers. The chartreuse foliage on reblooming Ghost

Miss Ruby has vivid magenta flowers that are richer and brighter than other varieties. They only reach four to five feet tall.

Weigela transforms to iridescent buttercream in late summer. Weigelas are fast-growing plants that thrive in full sun.

Prayer to St. Jude

Most holy Apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use, I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen.

CT

Prayer to the BLESSED VIRGIN

(Never known to fail). O Most Beautiful Flower of Mt. Carmel, Fruitful Vine, Splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O Star of the sea, help me and show me here in you, you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times.) Holy Mary, I place this cause in your hands (3 times.) Say this prayer for three consecutive days. You must publish it and it will be granted to you. Grateful Thanks.

Plastic Surgery for Pets

DEAR PAW'S CORNER: My 4-year-old pug, "Granby," is having surgery soon to correct a problem that makes it difficult for him to breathe. One of my friends said the procedure is nothing more than cosmetic surgery and that I ought to save my money. What do you think? — Mel in New York

DEAR MEL: For pugs and other short-nosed breeds, surgery is sometimes necessary in order for them to breathe better. If their nostrils are malformed or too narrow, they can be widened to improve airflow. Or, if the soft palate (at the top of their mouth) is too long and causing breathing issues, surgery can be done to shorten the soft palate.

While these may cause slight changes in Granby's appearance, they can drastically improve his quality of life and overall health.

Pets are increasingly receiving cosmetic surgery. A CBS report said that dog owners in the U.S. spent $62 million in 2011 on such treatments. For pugs like Granby as well as many bulldogs and Boston terriers, corrective surgeries are often necessary. Likewise for shar-peis, which may need surgery to raise their eyelids, improving vision and preventing medical issues like scratched corneas.

However, other procedures are more cosmetic — lifting saggy skin around the face or abdomen, for example. And apparently some owners opt to give their dogs testicular implants after neutering, so they're (hopefully) less likely to notice or be bothered by the loss of their real testicles.

On the plus side, Granby's surgery appears to be medically necessary and might be covered by some pet insurance plans.

John Cena in "Blockers"

HOLLYWOOD — When the children's book "Marlon Bundo's a Day in the Life of the Vice President," by Charlotte Pence, came out, with illustrations by Karen Pence (daughter and wife, respectively, of our current vice president), John Oliver of HBO's "Last Week Tonight, With John Oliver" premiered his own satirical version of the children's book. "A Day in the Life of Marlon Bundo" is about a male bunny who falls in love with another male bunny. The proceeds are being donated to the Trevor Project and AIDS United.

The parody has been outselling the original book, and now Max Mutchnick, creator and producer of "Will and Grace," has joined the cause. He admitted, "After reading John Oliver's book, an LGBTQ-friendly parody 'A Day in the Life of Marlon Bundo', to my daughters, I decided to donate a copy to every grammar school in Indiana." Mutchnick wed lawyer Erik Hyman in 2008, and their twin daughters were born that same year via a surrogate.

An audio book is now available on Amazon, featuring the voices of Jim Parsons, Jesse Tyler Ferguson, Jeff Garland, Ellie Kemper, John Lithgow, Jack McBrayer and RuPaul.

The feud between John Cena and Dwayne Johnson has ended, and now Cena is following in Johnson's footsteps. Johnson became famous as the wrestler "The Rock," and successfully made the transition to being a huge film star. Cena, also a wrestler, rose to the top of his game, and thanks to "The Rock" paving the way, also has made the transition to films.

Johnson is the busiest executive producer and actor around and has a string of huge hits. Cena's early films "The Marine" (2006), with Robert Patrick, and "12 Rounds" (2009) weren't hits, but by playing smaller roles in big films such as "Train-wreck" and "Sisters" (both in 2015), and in "The Wall" and as the voice of "Ferdinand" (both in 2017), he earned great reviews, and his current hit, "Blockers," has taken off. Cena's also completed the sci-fi "Bumblebee: The Movie," with Hailee Steinfeld (due Dec. 21) and "The Voyage of Doctor Dolittle," with Robert Downey, Jr. (due April 2019).

Meanwhile, Dwayne Johnson's "Jumanji: Welcome to the Jungle" (he's also executive producer) cost $100 million and grossed $946 million. He's currently in theaters in "Rampage," with "Skyscraper" opening July 13. Johnson will follow them with the comedy "Fighting With My Family," out Sept. 14. He's also exec producing "Shazam," starring Zachary Levi, for an April 2019 premiere.

"The Rock" and Cena resolved their feud after their WrestleMania 29 grudge match and are now the best of friends who confer often. Good thing, because Cena found being between a rock and a hard place isn't a good thing when "The Rock" is the hard place!

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You've set a fast pace for yourself. But as you approach your goal, you might want to slow down a bit in order to take time to reassess your situation and make changes while you can.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Patience continues to be a virtue for the Divine Bovine. So as eager as you might be to get things moving, remember that time is on your side. Make good use of it.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) There's a wee bit of uncertainty in the early part of the week. But things clear up as more facts come to light. Spend quality time this weekend with family and friends.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) An old friend's return could open new possibilities for both of you. But don't let yourself be rushed into anything. There could be some factors you haven't yet explored.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) This week offers a challenge you're raring to take on. And while eager to get started, do so slowly so that you can focus those sharp Cat's Eyes on every detail.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Put your skepticism aside and listen to advice from colleagues who've been where you are now. What they say could be helpful as you get closer to a decision.

HALL FOR RENT: Coventry Men's Club available for Bachelor Parties, Weddings, Birthdays, Retirement Parties, Etc. Menu available. Call 385-3536 after 2PM for more information.
