The position of Davis County Supervisor provides local and state political representation for the citizens of Davis County.

This position evolves by building trust and positive relationships, beginning with those within our community. Representation as a county supervisor is not a popularity contest. It is having the experience and knowledge going into the position and continuing to use that experience in a positive way. A county supervisor represents our county by serving on as many as 12 committees which convene monthly or quarterly. Matt has served as chairman on several committees, beginning in his first year as supervisor, which included sitting on a state board. Matt developed relationships with several admirable persons, including the late State Representative Curt Hanson, U.S. Representative Dave Loeb sack, and State Representative Phil Miller. Their personal assistance was notable as our county was seeking drought assistance for our farmers. Matt participated in many organizations over a 20 year time period, which he found invaluable when achieving his goal of becoming a county supervisor. Make sure you know the expected responsibilities of your county supervisor. It goes beyond replacing rock on county roads and working on budgets. Matt has served in many capacities in representation of our county. Please take into consideration the attributes and qualifications that are pertinent to the office as you mark your ballot on or before June 5th. Being a Davis County supervisor isn't working an eight hour day every Monday. Rather, it is a commitment to many hours daily, weekly, and monthly. It is my hope that you reflect on the uniqueness of our county and join me in anticipation of my husband, Matt Greiner, being re-elected as one of our county supervisors.

Sincerely,
Tammy
