STYLE TIPS From Terri

Terri Baird
My Chic Boutique

Howdy 2016...

How are you doing on those New Year's resolutions? Don't beat yourself up, we spend way too much time doing that as it is. My resolution for life is to focus less on me and more on helping others. I know I'm a work in progress and it will take the rest of my life to be molded into exactly what God wants me to be. The Journey is what's important, not the speed at which I reach it. Hang in there, if I can change, so can you.

Be sure to visit me, I have new & gently used clothes & gorgeous Prom dresses.

January Is Cervical Cancer Awareness Month

Great News About Cervical Cancer

According to the American Cancer Society, most cervical cancers can be prevented, detected and treated successfully. And death rates continue to decline each year, thanks to early detection and the increased use of Pap tests and the HPV vaccine. That's good news for the more than 12,900 new cases that will be diagnosed in the coming year. So join the thousands of women who will take action to prevent cervical cancer. Contact your primary care physician today and find out how you can be part of the great news!

- During the past 30 years, death rates due to cervical cancer have declined by 50%
- When detected at an early stage, the five-year survival rate for women with invasive cervical cancer is 91%
- The likelihood of developing cervical cancer actually declines for women over 50

To schedule a screening or for more information about preventing cervical cancer, visit us online or call—
