“Our eyes are up here,” says Miss America Organization

By Brad Crowe

Last Tuesday morning on ABC’s “Good Morning America,” former Miss America winner Gretchen Carlson – now head of the board of trustees – announced that the Miss America Organization will no longer include swimsuit or night gown portions of competition within their pageant.

“We’re not going to judge you on appearance because we are interested in what makes you you,” Carlson proudly stated.

This marks a historic change for the Miss America pageant, which actually began as an Atlantic City swimsuit competition in 1921. Though some are concerned that television ratings may suffer from exiling such an iconic portion of the event, the organization is confident that this change is a step in the right direction.

Based on a survey of individuals in the Pine Belt area, 61 percent voters believe this to be a good move for the Miss America Organization in their quest to judge contestants based on character rather than appearance, whereas the other 39 percent believe the pageant is better off sticking to its traditional format. The decision even drew reactions from local pageant competitors such as Waynesboro native Mackenzie Hutto, Miss Deep South 2018, who will be competing in the Miss Mississippi Pageant in Vicksburg later this month.

“The Miss America Organization [aims] to empower women,” said Hutto. “A lot of women have decided not to compete in this competition because of the swimsuit portion and the lack of love for their bodies. Women should feel beautiful in their own skin and be judged based on their opinions and what they believe. That is why they are doing this. They want women to be heard and not just be looked at in a bikini.”

Taylor Hathorn, a senior English education major at Mississippi College and editor-in-chief of the campus creative arts journal, believes that though it was admirable to remove the swimsuit portion from the event, there are certainly many more steps to be taken in order to achieve the equality and empowerment they claim to desire for their competition.

“Just as a disclaimer, I’ve never been in a beauty pageant,” noted Hathorn. “While I applaud this step, I still think that Miss America is a beauty pageant. They [only] count 25 percent of their score from their interviews. These judges meet the girls for what, 15 to 20 minutes, and ask them surface questions for which most of them are well-coached. This is a pageant of surfaces. Taking away the swimsuits only makes it blatantly obvious that is all about appearances and projections.”

Miss America 2018 Cara Mund, along with former winners such as Leanza Cornett (1993) and Mallory Hytes Hagan (2013), have spoken out recently in favor of this change after seeing it being implemented in other notable pageants. Most recently, Miss Teen USA made headlines in 2016 with their decision to ditch the swimsuit competition and gear their efforts towards judging contestants based on character and intellectual merit. The verdict on whether or not this change will affect its ratings will be determined later this year on Sept. 9, when contestants take the stage to compete for the honor of being named Miss America 2019.

5 reasons to try apple cider vinegar

Family Features

Vinegar is a fermented liquid made from a wide array of ingredients that is used primarily to preserve and flavor food. But the uses for vinegar are almost as extensive as the variety of flavors it's available in.

The word "vinegar" comes from the French "vin aigre," or "sour wine." Vinegar is a diluted solution of acetic acid that forms with the fermentation of grapes, apples, rice, corn, and many other ingredients.

Apple cider vinegar, or ACV, is a type of vinegar that has recently skyrocketed in popularity due to its purported health benefits. ACV is formed from cider or apple must and has a long history as a home remedy, making it the most popular type of vinegar in the natural health community. The following are just a handful of the purported benefits credited to ACV.

1. ACV improves healthy gut flora. Like other fermented foods and beverages (think yogurt and kombucha), ACV is rich in enzymes and probiotics. Probiotics can aid in digestion and make sure that the digestive system is working efficiently. According to the health and wellness team at MyFitnessPal, unpasteurized ACV can deliver probiotics and energize digestion. Others say that ACV can assist with easing an upset stomach by addressing unhealthy bacteria. Some remedies suggest that the pectin in ACV can help soothe intestinal spasms as well.

2. ACV can be used as a disinfectant. ACV and other vinegars can kill harmful bacteria or prevent them from multiplying, according to Healthline. ACV has historically been used as a disinfectant and natural preservative and may help reduce instances of E. coli. Those same antibacterial properties also may help head off infections of the throat. Reader's Digest indicates that gargling with ACV can soothe a sore throat and create an acidic environment in the esophagus that most germs can't survive.

3. ACV contributes to feelings of fullness. Many people insist that ACV helps with weight loss. According to dietitian and certified diabetes instructor Katie Rankell at UC Irvine Medical Center, ACV has been shown to lower blood sugar by reducing the absorption of carbohydrates, while also contributing to feelings of fullness that can help people avoid overeating.

4. ACV naturally lowers cholesterol. A 2016 study published in the British Journal of Nutrition found consumption of the acetic acid found in ACV reduced serum cholesterol and triglyceride levels in rats. More research is needed to determine if humans can reap similar rewards.

5. ACV can treat dandruff and other skin ailments. The acidity of ACV changes the pH of the skin and scalp, making it harder for yeast to grow. Applying ACV to the scalp can inhibit dandruff. It also can be used as a toner that exfoliates the skin and makes it less oily.

Kiwanis Scholarship recipients honored

Submitted

The Kiwanis Club of Laurel honored 15 students who received the organization’s annual scholarships which are awarded to students in the Laurel and Jones County school districts. The students were invited to join the club members at their weekly meeting, Wednesday, June 6, at the Laurel Country Club. Each recipient received a $500 scholarship. There were ten students who received the Kiwanis Scholarship and five students who received the Kiwanis Service Award Scholarship, which recognizes the student’s outstanding work in the community.

Each student received the scholarship at their respective school’s Awards Day ceremony presented by Kiwanis Club members, which included Danita Horne – Laurel Christian School, Keith Ridgeway – Laurel High School, Northeast Jones and South Jones – Lance Chancellor, and West Jones – Kelly Lawson.

Scholarship Committee Chair Barbara Johnson said they received over 250 applications for the 15 scholarships. She said when choosing the five student for the Service Award Scholarships that those chosen performed from 76 hours to approximately 581 during their high school years. “Collectively they spent 5,315 hours in community service,” said Johnson.

She added, “Don’t stop performing community service just because you’ve graduated from high school.” Johnson encouraged the students to continue performing community service while in college and mentioned the Circle K, which is the college level Kiwanis Club that can be found on most college campuses. “After you complete your college education come back and be a part of our Kiwanis Club.”

Prayer changes everything

By Dr. Bill Myers

“Be alert and of sober mind. Your enemy the devil prowls around like a roaring lion looking for someone to devour.” (1 Peter 5:8)

“The thief comes only to steal and kill and destroy; I have come that they may have life, and have it to the full.” (John 10:10)

Reading these two scriptures reveal to us we have an enemy. Satan desires for us to turn our back on God. Why? When we pull away from our Father, it hurts him and Satan loves it! Believers know that there is no loyalty with the devil. He is a deceiver and only desires to destroy what God has created! Christians, we must take a stand against him and not be fearful or afraid. Prayer changes everything!

“You, dear children, are from God and have ‘overcome’ them, because the one (Jesus) who is in you is greater than the one (devil) who is in the world.” (1 John 4:4) Did you get that? God has equipped us to be stronger than the devil! He has given us power and a two-edged sword (Bible) to fight and win with. So don’t be afraid of the devil’s tactics or plots. Jesus is stronger and mightier . . . and we’re God’s children. Prayer changes everything!

“Very truly I tell you, whoever believes in me will do the works I have been doing, and they will do even greater things than these.....” (John 14:12)

Friends, God has equipped us with a manual (Bible) to conquer and win. The entire bible, from Genesis to Revelation instructs us that the devil is defeated! Let’s rejoice that God’s holy angels are fighting for us, AND Jesus is sitting at the right hand of God interceding on our behalf. Sounds like a win/win!

Today, don’t focus on the devil and what he might try to do, but give your full attention to your Heavenly Father! The Bible is a strong sword to fight with. The power of our worship drives evil away! Yes, there is power in our worship. There is power in a ‘thankful’ heart. Again, don’t focus attention on the devil, but stay focused on Jesus! A thankful heart keeps our focus on Jesus. God says we are over comers. Prayer changes everything!

I encourage you as you pray to tell God how much you love Him. You will experience freedom, joy, peace, and confidence knowing that things are happening in your life for the better! God truly desires to bless you. As you are working, driving your car etc., express thankfulness from your heart. He loves to hear you praise Him.

“We are more than conquerors through him who loved us.” (Romans 8:37) Ready to see your life change? Ready to see changes in your circumstances and the lives of those around you? Ready to be happy again? Begin by giving Him thanks “with a grateful heart.” And please remember, Prayer changes everything!

Walters receives scholarship from Board of Supervisors

Submitted

The Jones County Board of Supervisors presented Erin Caye Walters with a $500 check as the Jones County recipient of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors County Employee Scholarship. Erin is a graduate of Northeast Jones High School. She is the daughter of Stewart and Juanita Walters. Erin plans to attend The University of Southern Mississippi in the fall and pursue a degree in Medical Lab Science.

“The Board looks forward to award these scholarships with MAS every year. It is great to be able to invest in our youth. We hope that they learn all they can and eventually return home to Jones County,” said Chataura Sanders, spokeswoman for the Board of Supervisors.

The MAS County Employee Scholarship program awarded over 75 scholarships to dependents of current or retired county employees around the state. Derrick Surrette, executive director of MAS said. “The MAS County Employee Scholarship program is one way that our Association can give back to the employees of our counties. We hope to have an even greater response to the program next year.”

The Mississippi Association of Supervisors is a nonprofit support association for Mississippi’s 82 counties. Since its inception in 1928, MAS has been committed to the improvement of county government across out state. MAS members have been committed to the improvement of county government across our state. MAS members have been instrumental in implementing efficient and affective grassroots government that serves the general welfare not only of the counties themselves, but of the entire state. For more information on MAS, visit our website at www.mssupervisors.org

Herrington receives NJCAA Loyalty Award

By Shawn Wansley

Jones County Junior College Athletic Director Katie Herrington is the 19th recipient of the NJCAA Loyalty Award. The award “is given to an active athletic director in the NJCAA membership that has worked to uphold the ideals of the organization. Significant to this award is leadership in an athletic program exemplifying excellence both on the field/court and in the classroom.”

Herrington has provided exceptional leadership for both the Bobcats and the entire NJCAA for over 25 years in a variety of roles. Herrington served as the Region XXIII Women’s Director from 1997-2011.

Upon receiving the honor, Herrington stated “I am honored to receive this award from the NJCAA. I realized my name is on the award, but I share it with the coaches and players that have been a part of our teams at Jones County. I have been a part of the NJCAA for a long time and know many of the past recipients of this award. I am humbled to receive this year’s Loyalty Award.”

The award was announced in April at the NJCAA Awards Dinner in Colorado Springs, Colorado. Herrington came to JCJC in 1988 as head women’s basketball coach. She coached the Lady Bobcats for 11 years and has served as a full-time health and physical education instructor for the past 18 years. She is completing her 12th year as athletic director, as well as the Health, Physical Education and Recreation Division Chair. During her tenure as athletic director, Jones has won three NJCAA championships (men’s basketball, baseball and softball) and finished NJCAA Tournament runnerups four times (softball and baseball).

A graduate of Taylorsville High School, Herrington was a point guard for the 1980 Lady Tartar state championship basketball team. She was selected as the Pine Belt Conference MVP for three consecutive years, as an All-State player and as a member of the Mississippi All-Star team. Herrington attended Mississippi University for Women on a basketball scholarship from 1980-84. She was a four-year starter for “The W” where she earned the Don Usher MVP Award as a senior. Herrington graduated cum laude with a degree in physical education.

Upon graduation, Herrington went to William Carey College as an assistant women’s basketball coach. After one year as an assistant, she was named as the Lady Crusaders head coach. She served as head coach for three years. During her time at William Carey, she received a Master’s of Education degree.

While at Jones, Herrington served as the NJCAA’s Women’s Regional Director for 15 years and as Assistant Director for five years. She was named the Mississippi Junior College Women’s Basketball Coach of the Year in 1990. In 2008, she was selected as the JCJC Faculty of the Year. She was the recipient of the 2015 Fellowship of Christian Athletes Dave “Boo” Ferriss Influence Award.

Herrington is married to Bob Herrington. They have a daughter, Kellie, and a son-in-law, Robbie Jefcoat.

Kick times released for MSU’s first three games, Egg Bowl

Submitted

With the start of the Joe Moorhead era on the horizon, game times for the first three contests of Mississippi State football’s 2018 schedule as well as the 91st Battle for the Golden Egg with in-state rival Ole Miss were announced by the Southeastern Conference on Thursday.

The Moorhead era begins in Davis Wade Stadium on Saturday, Sept. 1 versus Stephen F. Austin at 6:30 p.m. CT on ESPNU. The meeting is the first in program history between the Bulldogs and the Lumberjacks. The following week, Moorhead and a veteran Bulldog squad, which features 17 returning starters, will face its first road test of the season at Kansas State on Saturday, Sept. 8with an 11 a.m. CT kick live on ESPN from Bill Snyder Family Football Stadium. The trip to Manhattan, Kan., will be the first for MSU’s since Oct. 1, 1977.

MSU will close a stretch of three straight non-conference games to open the 2018 campaign on Saturday, Sept. 15 when Louisiana-Lafayette travels to Davis Wade for a 6:30 p.m. CT kick that will air on the SEC Network Alternative Channel. One of college football’s most storied rivalries will receive primetime coverage from ESPN on Thanksgiving night as the Egg Bowl will kick off from Vaught-Hemingway Stadium in Oxford, Miss., at 6:30 p.m. CT on Thursday, Nov. 22.

The remainder of MSU’s kickoff times and television networks will be announced at a later date. Season tickets for the 2018 Bulldog season start at $200 and can be purchased at HailState.com/MoorCowbell, by calling 1-888-GO-DAWGS or in person at the MSU Athletic Ticket Office on the first floor of the Bryan Athletic Administration Building (288 Lakeview Drive), Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Bobcats ranked No. 13 in Street and Smith’s preseason poll

ELLISVILLE – Jones County Junior College is ranked 13th in the 2018 Street and Smith’s College Football Preview magazine preseason poll.

Head coach Steve Buckley’s Bobcats are coming off an 8-2 season where they won the MACJC South Division and advanced to the state semifinals. This particular poll includes both NJCAA and California schools.

East Mississippi is rated No. 1 in the poll, followed by Garden City (Kansas), Iowa Western, Arizona Western and Northwest Mississippi. Hinds is the only other MACJC school in the poll, coming in at No. 22. Street and Smith’s College Football Preview magazine is now available at newsstands across the country. JCJC opens the 2018 season at home at 7 p.m. on Aug. 30 vs. Coahoma.
