Government Employee's Three Wishes

A State Government Employee sits in his office and out of boredom, decides to see what's in his old filing cabinet. He pokes through the contents and comes across an old brass lamp. "This would look nice on my mantelpiece," he thinks, so he takes it home with him.

While polishing the lamp, a genie appears and grants him three wishes.

"I wish for an ice cold diet Pepsi right now!"

POOF!

A Pepsi appears before him on his desk, so he picks it up and guzzles it all at once.

Now that he can think more clearly, he states his second wish. "I wish to be on an island where I can have total peace and solitude."

POOF!

Suddenly he is on an island with no one around to place demands on his time. Absolute leisure has finally come without conditions. He then tells the genie his third and last wish: "I wish I'd never have to work ever again."

POOF!

He's back in his government office.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Count to 10 if you must, but don't lose your temper, despite that person's (you know who!) efforts to goad you into reacting. Your restraint will pay off in a big way.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) This week finds you in a sociable mood, ready and eager to enjoy the company of family and friends. It's also a good time to seek out and renew old friendships.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Patience is called for as you await a decision about that project you're eager to launch. Meanwhile, try to set aside more time to share with that special person in your life.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Avoid becoming involved in a workplace dispute early in the week by insisting both sides submit their stands to a neutral arbitrator. Things begin to cool off by Thursday.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) It promises to be a busy but productive week for the Big Cat. The pace slows by Friday, allowing you to catch up on matters you put aside but that now need your attention.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A suddenly disruptive family situation is best handled with a cool, calm and collected response. Wait until things settle to let off all that pent-up emotional steam.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Your practical side dominates the week as you reassess your finances to make some sensible adjustments in what you plan to spend and what you expect to save.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) An unexpected meeting with a former colleague opens some interesting possibilities. But you need to press for full disclosure before making a decision.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A recent flurry of activity eases by midweek, giving you time to readjust your disrupted schedule and make new plans for a weekend getaway.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You're usually the one who gives advice. But now it's time to open yourself up to counsel from friends who have your best interests at heart.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might find resistance to your call for a full inquiry into a workplace problem. But by week's end even the most rigid naysayers begin to come around.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) A recurring problem surfaces once again. Maybe it's time you used your creative talents to help you find a new approach to resolving it once and for all.

BORN THIS WEEK: You are guided in what you do both by your intelligence and your emotions. An acting career would suit you quite well.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was French author, philosopher and journalist Albert Camus who made the following sage observation: "Nobody realizes that some people expend tremendous energy merely to be normal."

* Famously flamboyant country singer and songwriter Dolly Parton once entered a Dolly Parton look-alike contest -- and she lost.

* If you're a sailor you're probably familiar with the hazards of being out on the water: high seas, storms, hidden reefs. You probably wouldn't count whales among the dangers, but you'd be wrong. In 2010, on a day sail out of Table Bay Harbor in South Africa, a couple on a 30-foot sailboat were whale-watching when one got too close for comfort. A 40-ton whale they had been viewing breached right next to the boat and landed on the deck, breaking off the mast and then thrashing around before sliding back into the water. The whale lost some skin and blubber, but was otherwise unharmed; the couple were lucky to still have a seaworthy craft and made it safely back to the harbor.

* Married women aren't likely to be surprised by the following tidbit of information: Studies show that women with husbands typically do 30 percent more housework than single women do.

* If you're heading to the state of Washington with mischief on your mind, you'll need to keep in mind this state law: "A motorist with criminal intentions [must] stop at the city limits and telephone the chief of police as he [or she] is entering the town." I bet that one has been really effective in stopping crime.

* It's been reported that singer Sting doesn't use deodorant. In fact, after interviewing him for a concert once, the journalists nicknamed him "Stink." ***

Thought for the Day: "It's far better to be unhappy alone than unhappy with someone." -- Marilyn Monroe

Night Out

Tired from waiting for their overdue baby, my daughter and her husband broke the monotony one night with a trip to the movies. My daughter went inside to get seats while my son-in-law bought popcorn and drinks in the lobby.

Paying for the refreshments, my son-in-law knocked over his soda. The clerk mopped up the mess and refilled his cup. Rattled, he then joined his wife.

Talking over the background music, he dramatically described his embarrassing episode. One of his expressive gestures upset the bucket of popcorn. He sheepishly headed back to the lobby.

When he was out of earshot, the woman sitting next to my daughter turned and said, "You're not going to let him hold the baby, are you?"

Good Golf

Four old men went into the pro shop after playing 18 holes of golf. The pro asked, "Did you guys have a good game today?"

The first old guy said, "Yes, I had three riders today."

The second old guy said, "I had the most riders ever. I had five."

The third old guy said, "I had 7 riders, the same as last time."

The last old man said, "I beat my old record. I had 12 riders today."

After they went into the locker room, another golfer who had heard the old guys talking about their game went to the pro and said, "I have been playing golf for a long time and thought I knew all the terminology of the game, but what's a rider?"

The pro said, "A rider is when you hit the ball far enough to get in the golf cart and ride to it."

PIEDMONT PETS
June 7, 2018
By Paulette Dean

According to the Virginia Department of Game and Inland Fisheries, the coyote population in Virginia continues to grow and is distributed throughout the state, even though it is thought that more coyotes live in the area west of the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Coyotes are a threat to cats kept outside, as well as small dogs. There have been some cases of coyotes even attacking small dogs that are being walked on leashes.

The Department of Game and Inland Fisheries suggests that "Small dogs and cats should be kept in an enclosure when kept outdoors in order to prevent coyotes from attacking and killing a pet animal. Even though a fence may dissuade coyotes from attacking your pet, be aware that coyotes can jump over fences less than 7-feet high and can climb over taller fencing that does not have an outward slanting overhang." (From www.dgif.virginia.gov.)

This certainly is not an issue that should cause undue concern or cause people to panic; we do not have hordes of coyotes in each neighborhood that are waiting to attack humans and their pets. However, it is not a bad idea to exercise caution. It is better to take a pro-active approach to staying away from coyotes and encouraging them to leave inhabited areas.

First and foremost, cats are safer inside. Small dogs should also not be left outside by themselves. All dogs and cats should have rabies vaccinations that are kept current. Dogs that are chained outside are also at risk of being attacked by coyotes.

If a food source is provided (even unintentionally through feeding pets outside), a coyote may become more comfortable in staying around your house. That is not a good thing, because the coyote may become more aggressive. Take steps to secure garbage cans, and prevent small prey from staying around your house; they can attract hungry coyotes.

The Department of Game and Inland Fisheries also offers some good advice about how to make coyotes feel unwelcome. They suggest you find a place that keeps you safe from the animal, and then yell while throwing non-food items in the direction of the coyote.

We are saddened by the number of reports we get about missing cats, especially in Pittsylvania County, and suspect that coyotes and foxes may be part of the reason.

It is always safer to stay away from wild animals, and it is safer for your pets to take steps to keep them away from them also.

Ryan Reynolds

HOLLYWOOD — Ryan Reynolds didn't fare well with "Life" (2017), co-starring Jake Gyllenhaal, but had better luck with "The Hitman's Bodyguard" (2017), with Samuel L. Jackson, Oscar-winner Gary Oldman and Selma Hayek ($30 million cost/$176 million gross). He has struck gold by co-writing, producing and starring as "Deadpool" (2017), which grossed $731 million, and its sequel, "Deadpool 2," which is approaching the $500 million mark.

Next up is his production of "The Little Stranger," with Domhnall Gleason and Will Poulter, for an Aug. 31 release. That's followed by the Netflix film "Six Underground," with director Michael Bay and written by his "Deadpool" co-writers Paul Wernick and Rhett Reese. With a $150 million budget, it's set for a 2019 release.

"Monster" Oscar-winner (2004) Charlize Theron — who produced and starred in "Gringo," which grossed $9.8 million earlier this year, and "Tully" (which she also produced), released in May, with a $9.3 million gross — will try producing again when she portrays Megyn Kelly in a film about the women of Fox News and Roger Ailes.

Richard Gere, whose last film was "The Dinner" (2017) with Laura Linney, is awaiting the release of "Three Christs," with Julianna Margulies, Peter Dinklage and Bradley Whitfield, which began filming in August 2016. He's now turning to television, which he's rarely done, to star in the eight-part BBC Two mini-series "MotherFatherSon," written by "American Crime Story's" Tom Rob

Smith, shooting this summer in London and Spain.

We'll be seeing lots of Sylvester Stallone. He has two films with Dave Bautista and Curtis "50 Cent" Jackson: "Escape Plan 2: Hades" (due June 29) and its sequel, "Plan 3: Devils Station" (already completed), as well as "Creed II," with Michael B. Jordan (out Nov. 21); "Backtrace," with Matthew Modine; and "The Expendables 4" (no cast announced yet). Stallone again has written and is producing "Creed II," and you can be sure this time around he'll muscle his way into enough big scenes to win the Oscar he was denied the last time out. Rocky's back, can Rambo V be far behind?

Averett University to Offer New Innovative Graduate Programs in Applied Data Analytics and Criminal Justice

AVERETT UNIVERSITY
SINCE 1859

GRADUATE & PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

DANVILLE, Va. (June 13, 2018) –Averett University today announced it will begin offering two new master's degree programs through its Graduate and Professional Studies (GPS) program. A Master of Science in Applied Data Analytics program and a Master of Science in Criminal Justice Leadership and Administration program will begin enrolling students immediately for the Fall 2018 term.

The two programs are designed to be flexible for adult students, and will offer potential for scholarships and other financial aid. Both will begin their first classes in early August.

"These two programs are so exciting because they are a direct response to the growing needs of the community and workforce," said Averett University President Dr. Tiffany M. Franks. "With each program, we've built symbiotic relationships and partnerships with major industry leaders and regional agencies that have been instrumental in developing the curriculums and setting the direction for these programs."

The Applied Data Analytics program is designed to provide students with a broad understanding of data analysis in order to develop solutions to organizational problems, and is aimed at the manager who needs to interpret data. The program will be offered in a hybrid format with a combination of face-to-face and online instruction, and can be completed in one to two years. Recent workforce projections from the Bureau of Labor Statistics show a 13 percent growth in analytics-related jobs from 2016 to 2026.

"Employers have said that they need someone who can provide data storytelling to improve results – analyzing and interpreting raw data, piecing together things like statistics, patterns, sales and demographics, and making sense of it all by providing a bigger picture of its meaning," said Dr. Alice Obenchain-Leeson, director of business administration for GPS. "What's really exciting about this is while it is a business degree, it's not just a program for 'business people.' This is interdisciplinary and can be used in any kind of organization."

Designed to provide an enhanced level of graduate study and education for criminal justice practitioners who are entering or progressing into administration and leadership positions in criminal justice, the Criminal Justice Leadership and Administration interdisciplinary degree program includes 36 credit hours with an option of a final thesis or comprehensive exam. The accelerated online program format allows for degree completion in less than 20 months. It has been endorsed by Averett's several newly developed regional Criminal Justice Advisory Boards from across the Commonwealth.

"We've heard directly from the criminal justice workforce that practitioners moving up in rank, where they supervise personnel or operate at the upper management level, are required to have the skills, abilities and knowledge in the area of criminal justice administration and leadership," said Dr. James Hodgson, director of criminal justice for GPS. "With industry standards increasing and seeking further professionalization for police and criminal justice agencies, many professionals in the field are expected to have a graduate degree. This degree program will prepare students to meet today's amplified expectations to lead professionally and solve problems progressively."

Prospective students interested in learning more can request information online at <https://gps.averett.edu/contact-information/request-info/>, or call 1-800-448-5233.

On May 16th, 2018 at 12:34 AM, on a Last Minute Fishing Trip with Ed Morsey on the Dirty Dan, we stopped and hit a log jam to fish. We heard a fish kept busting the water and I told Ed Morsey "That's a Big One!". Sure Enough! The Fish came up to the boat 3 times, and ran back down the river twice. The third time, it went under the boat. Was the Best Fight Ever. Finally, the fish came up and landed from tail to head first. Ed Morsey did a Fine Job netting it and being patient. Morris Lawson and Ed Morsey witnessed the weight of the 60lb Munsta Flathead! The Fish was released alive and splashed away. We were only a Few Pounds away from a State Record! Very Happy to have landed a Hawg like this one! Lets Go TEAM OUTLAWS!!

Centra Cancer Trials Program Receives Award

LYNCHBURG, Va.—Each year the VCU Massey Cancer Center hosts an affiliate retreat, and this year they named Centra Alan B. Pearson Regional Cancer Center the affiliate site with the highest NCORP (National Community Oncology Research Program) accrual. This means of all the affiliate sites VCU works with, the Centra program recruited the most patients in 2017 to various clinical trials.

VCU receives a grant every year to work with hospitals that are community based. This brings research based medicine close to a patient's home. The Pearson Cancer Center currently has 21 clinical trials open with 100 patients involved who are being followed by the clinical trials team. In 2017 Centra recruited 123 patients to 10 different trials.

"Clinical trials are finding ways to help people live longer, improve their quality of life and manage or cure diseases," says Dr. Kevin Patel, Principal Investigator of Centra's Clinical Trials program. "This is possible because of the people who volunteer to participate in clinical trials."

By participating in a clinical trial, patients have access to potentially effective treatments not available elsewhere. Additionally, patients themselves will contribute to cancer research, which can help other cancer patients in the future.

Patients of the Pearson Cancer Center may visit clinicaltrials.gov to see what trials are currently available and accepting new patients. Trials can last anywhere from 2 years to 20 years, and follow up care can be done here locally. Trials can include studies, different drugs, tissue donation and treatments- there are many options and patients are encouraged to join one that suits their needs and lifestyle.

Detail of woodblock print by Kono Bairai, 1913

The rose plant itself is said to be around 35 million years old; it has a very long history as a symbol for love and beauty and for politics and war. Cultivation of roses began some 5,000 years ago, probably in China. During the Roman period, they were used as confetti at celebrations, for medicinal purposes, and as a source of perfume. Roman nobility established large public rose gardens in the south of Rome. - Brenda Weaver

Stand Downs for 2018

Stand Down season has begun, and whether you're on the side of needing services or providing help to homeless veterans, the information is out there and waiting for you.

Stand Downs are events that take place over one to three days, depending on the location. On a typical day, homeless veterans can get services for benefits eligibility screening, personal care items, employment help, legal assistance, haircuts, case management, housing and mental health services. In addition, many locations have food, clothing, shelter, health and dental screenings right on the spot, with multiple agencies and sources of assistance coming together. You might find college resources, a career fair and more, depending on the location. If you have your DD-214 or a Department of Veterans Affairs medical card, bring it. Stand Downs have been going on since 1988, and there now are locations all across the country.

To see the VA list of Stand Downs, go online to www.va.gov/homeless/events.asp and scroll down. You'll find dates, location, and names and phone numbers, as well as email addresses. The season runs until December in some areas. Make contact as early as you can, whether you need services or can volunteer. Many locations have transportation to the event, if you call ahead. If you don't see a listing for your area, contact the nearest VA Medical Center. Perhaps your event isn't posted yet, or maybe they need to gauge interest. You also can search online by listing your state for "veterans Stand Down schedule 2018."

The National Coalition for Homeless Veterans has its own Stand Down page at www.nchv.org. There's also a list of contacts for immediate help, such as the crisis line [1-800-273-TALK (veterans press 1)] and community-based organizations near you.

If you know veterans who need this information, please clip and copy, then pass it around, especially to homeless shelters.

* “Restore the shine on dull buttons by painting them with a coat of clear nail polish. I’ve renewed the buttons on my cardigan several times this way. I think it also strengthens the threads holding the buttons on.” -- R.H. in Maine

* “Turn a regular bra into a racerback strap with a simple paperclip. Just tuck both arm straps into the paperclip and adjust the point on your back where they come together. This has saved me when I had a nice tank top under a light jacket but then wanted to remove the jacket without my straps showing.” -- A.J. in California

* A paintbrush makes it really easy to clean out the crevices in your car. You can tape it to a ruler to get a longer reach and use it between the chairs and the center console, where there are a lot of crumbs but it’s hard to reach.

* “I found an all-plastic mattress cover, meant to be a protection against spills or wetting the bed. I use it instead to protect my outside picnic table when the kids are doing messy crafts, like painting or working with glue or dyes. Because it’s a fitted sheet, it grips the table in any amount of wind, so it never flies up. I can hose it off to clean up, and when it’s dry I just store it until next time.” -- M.W. in Minnesota

* Thrift store pillowcases make an excellent dust cover for stored purses and bags. They can be trimmed to size, if necessary, and tied closed with a bit of string.

* “For fun pancake shapes, use a turkey baster. Fill it with pancake batter, then spell or draw on a heated and oiled pan. Just make sure your letters are backward to start with; they look better when flipped!” -- E.L. in Washington
