A visitor to Israel attended a recital and concert at the Moscovitz Auditorium. He was quite impressed with the architecture and the acoustics. He inquired of the tour guide, "Is this magnificent auditorium named after Chaim Moscovitz, the famous Talmudic scholar?"

"No," replied the guide. "It is named after Sam Moscovitz, the writer."

"Never heard of him. What did he write?"

"A big check," replied the guide.

* Use a tie hanger to organize tank tops in your closet.

* "Use a brightly colored nail polish to make a mark or your initials on the bottom of play cars so that you can tell which ones are your child's and which are not. Trust me when I say that this will save your child many arguments." -- W.L. in Montana

* If indigestion strikes while you are out, it's mustard to the rescue. You usually can find a convenience store, deli or restaurant with a mustard packet. It helps to calm the heartburn well -- you just eat it.

* "I had an old tablecloth that started getting tatty on the edges. It was a nice vinyl one with a flannel back. I ended up cutting it into two aprons for myself and my grandbaby. We love to do messy crafts together, and now we have matching aprons to keep our clothes clean." -- T.K. in Georgia

* Speaking of tablecloths, here's a great picnic tip: If the wind is kicking up, send the kids out to find four smallish rocks or fill four sandwich baggies partway with dirt. Set one at each corner and wrap the tablecloth around it, securing with an elastic hair tie. When these weighted corners dangle off the edges of the table, it keeps the tablecloth in place in all but the stiffest of winds.

* "Birthday candles can be held in place with Lifesaver candies. They are the perfect size for your standard candles, and kids really like them. Also, for adults, they will catch any excess wax that drips. Especially if you have a lot of candles on your cake, like mine!" -- U.D. in Tennessee

Be a bottle of water... not a bottle of soda.

The bottle is you. What's inside is your emotions/reactions. The outside world and people are gonna attack you and rattle/shake you from time to time. If you shake a bottle of soda, when you finally open up you're gonna explode. But if you shake a water bottle once you open up it's the same calm water it was before it got shook up.

Don't let other people and this world disrupt your inner peace.

Salome's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Before you adventurous Arians charge right into those new projects, take a little time to learn where you'll be going so you can avoid getting lost before you get there.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your time is devoted to career demands through much of the week. But Venus, who rules your sign, might be planning how (and with whom) you'll spend your weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Don't be put off by the surprising turn in the way your project is developing. You've invested enough time in it to know how to make all the necessary adjustments.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) The work week goes smoothly for the most part. But a weekend visit to a place in your past could hold surprises for your future, especially where romance is involved.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A sudden attack of shyness for the usually loquacious Lion could be a sign that deep down you're not sure enough about what (or whom) you had planned to talk up in public.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Deal with that job-related problem on-site -- that is, at the workplace. Avoid taking it home, where it can spoil those important personal plans you've made.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a good time to let those favorable comments about your business dealings be known to those in a position to be helpful. Don't hide your light; let it shine.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Avoid added pressure to finish a project on deadline by steering clear of distractions. To put it somewhat poetically: Time for fun -- when your tasks are done.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You might be uneasy about an offer from a longtime colleague. But before you reject it, study it. You might be surprised at what it actually contains.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Deal firmly with a difficult family matter. It's your strength they need right now. You can show your emotions when the situation begins to ease up.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A recent dispute with some co-workers might not have been completely resolved. But other colleagues will be only too happy to offer support of your actions.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Let go of that Piscean pride long enough to allow someone to help you with a surprising development. That could make it easier for you to adjust to the change.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your willingness to open up to possibilities is why people like you are often among our most popular political leaders.

June 21, 2018
By Paulette Dean

Although it seems like such a good idea to attempt to raise a wild baby bird, it really is not. Despite your best efforts, most hand-raised birds will not thrive and will probably die. Besides, it is against the law to have custody of a wild bird.

During spring and summer, many young birds are found on the ground. Any fully feathered baby bird found on the ground, seemingly unable to fly, is probably in the fledgling stage. Birds need from several days to four weeks, depending on the species, to learn how to fly and forage for food. One or more parent will feed them during this period. During the time the fledglings are on the ground, it is vital that cats and dogs be kept inside. With so many stray cats around, this is a very dangerous time for the baby birds.

If any fully feathered baby bird is found on the ground, seemingly unable to fly the best thing to do is to leave them alone, and make sure pets, strays, and other wild animals are kept away from them also. The parents will not feed the baby while people are around.

An uninjured bird with little or no feathers found on the ground needs to be returned to the nest. If you can locate the nest, simply put the bird back. The parents will not be frightened by human scent, because birds do not have a strong sense of smell. If the nest is unreachable or you can't find it, the birds this young probably need intervention and you can take them to the Southside Wildlife Center on South Hunter Street in Danville.

Private citizens are protected under the Good Samaritan laws and can pick up and transport wild birds to a rehabilitator. Feeding and keeping wild animals is illegal unless you have both state and federal permits.

(The information contained in this column was obtained from Southside Wildlife Center and The Wildlife Center of Virginia. We remind everyone that, no matter how tempting it is, it is not in the bird's best interest to attempt to raise a baby bird. It is also illegal.)

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

HOLLYWOOD — Can it really be that Sesame Street is suing The Muppets? Has the world gone crazy? Sesame Street is suing STX films because of "The Happy Time Murders," which stars Melissa McCarthy, Maya Rudolf and Joel McHale and was directed by Muppets owner Brian Henson, son of Jim Henson (creator of The Muppets). The film follows the murders of 1980s Muppet Show characters being bumped off one by one.

STX says, "We loved the idea of working closely with Brian Henson and the Jim Henson Company to tell the story of the active lives of Henson puppets when they're not performing in front of children!" (WHAT?!) They further added, "While we're disappointed Sesame Street doesn't share in the fun, we're confident in our legal position."

Need further proof that the world's gone mad? Roseanne Barr's big mouth has put hundreds of people out of work because of her unnecessary remarks that caused ABC to cancel "Roseanne." Mario Batali's charges of sexual misconduct got him axed from "The Chew," which has been canceled in turn. Batali also was removed from his many eateries in NYC, Los Angeles, Chicago and Boston, including Babbo, Del Posto, Eataly, Esca, Lupa and Osteria Mozza, and all his products have been removed from their shelves. We're talking a small fortune. Now his three restaurants in Las Vegas (two in The Venetian Hotel and one in The Palazzo Hotel) are being closed July 27. This means hundreds of more people have lost their jobs because of celebrity misconduct.

Producers Craig Zadan and Neil Meron, who gave us "The Sound of Music Live" (2013), "Peter Pan Live" (2014), "The Wiz Live" (2015), "Hair-spray Live" (2016) and "Jesus Christ Superstar Live in Concert" (2018), are preparing three shows for 2019,

Natalie Dormer

"A Few Good Men Live," "Bye, Bye Birdie Live" and the 1968 avant-garde groundbreaking musical "Hair" (Live). The film version of "Hair" (1979) failed because the nude scene, which caused the Broadway show to be raided several times, was omitted. Is TV ready for a nude scene?

"Game of Thrones" star Natalie Dormer will produce and star in a mini-series as Oscar-winner Vivian Leigh, who won for "Gone with the Wind" (1939) and "A Streetcar Named Desire" (1951). Each episode revolves around her films and marriage to legendary actor Laurence Olivier. Dormer soon will be seen in "Patient Zero," with "Doctor Who" star Matt Smith, and in "The Professor and the Madman," with Mel Gibson and Sean Penn.

Finally, Disney is disappointed in the early grosses for "Solo," which proves even if you're in "Star Wars," you may not be able to fly "Solo"!

4. Who released "Pieces of April"?
5. Name the song that contains this lyric: "He couldn't swim the raging river, 'Cause the river was too wide, He couldn't reach Little White Dove, Waiting on the other side."

Answers

1. Dickey Lee, in 1963. Most of Lee's fame came in later years when he moved over to the country charts.
2. Otis Redding. The song was written in 1932 and was first released by one of the Big Bands as a peppy dance tune.
3. The Temptations, in 1964. It was their first charting single, going to No. 1 on the CashBox R&B chart. The song was written by Smokey Robinson.
4. Three Dog Night, in 1972. It was written by Dave Loggins, cousin of Kenny Loggins.
5. "Running Bear," by Johnny Preston in 1959. The song tells of two Indian lovers who couldn't be together because their tribes were at war. They're determined to be together, and drown when they meet in the middle of the raging river that separates them.

THE BEST CHICKEN MARINADE

INGREDIENTS

- 1/2 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1/2 cup balsamic vinegar or other vinegar
- 1/4 cup soy sauce
- 1/4 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1/8 cup lemon juice
- 3/4 cup brown sugar
- 2 tsp dried rosemary
- 2 tbsp Dijon or Spicy Brown mustard
- 2 tsp salt
- 1 tsp ground black pepper
- 2 tsp garlic powder
- 6 chicken breasts or 3.5 lb chicken

INSTRUCTIONS

Combine all ingredients, except for chicken, in a large Pyrex measuring cup or mixing bowl and whisk together.

Remove a half a cup of marinade and reserve for basting the chicken later.

Place chicken in a large, ziploc bag and pour marinade over the top. Close securely.

Marinate for at least 4 hours and up to 24 hours.

To grill

Preheat grill to medium high heat and lightly oil the grates.

Remove the chicken from the marinade, letting the excess drip off.

Grill chicken for 5 to 6 minutes on each side or until cooked through.

Baste the chicken occasionally with the reserved marinade.

Remove chicken from grill and tent with foil. Let chicken rest for at least 5 minutes before serving Optional.

If you bring the reserved marinade up to a boil, let simmer until slightly reduced, it makes a wonderful sauce to go on top of the chicken.

Recipe Notes

I've marinated my chicken for as few as 30 minutes and the chicken was still phenomenal. Basically, the longer you have to marinate the better but don't worry if you don't have a lot of time.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

* It was noted 20th-century American novelist, short story writer and journalist Ernest Hemingway who made the following sage observation: "When you stop doing things for fun you might as well be dead."

* You might be surprised to learn that the largest irrigated crop in the United States isn't soybeans, wheat or even corn; it's grass -- mostly in lawns, parks and golf courses.

* The next time you see a shampoo commercial and note how creamy and frothy the lather seems to be, keep this in mind: The model in the advertisement probably has either laundry detergent or frothed egg whites on her hair.

* You may be among those people who think good deeds and selfless acts are on the decline. If so, consider this story: In 2010, an employee at a recycling company came across 23 U.S. savings bonds while sorting through a bin of discarded papers. Instead of trying to cash the $22,000 worth of bonds himself, Mike Rodgers decided to track down the owner. It turned out that the woman who had bought the bonds, Martha Dobbins, had been dead for almost two decades. Rodgers didn't give up, though; he began a search for Robert Roberts, who was also named on the bonds. Though the name is common and Rodgers hit many dead ends, he eventually located the correct Robert Roberts, the son of Martha Dobbins. Roberts hadn't even been aware of the bonds' existence. Rodgers, his good deed finally being done, refused a reward.

* Ever wonder what the opposite of reverse is? It's obverse -- the front or principal part of an object. On a coin, for instance, the obverse is "heads" and the reverse is "tails." ***

Thought for the Day: "The secret of life is to appreciate the pleasure of being terribly, terribly deceived." -- Oscar Wilde

"If You Are Grieving, Look Outside Of The Dot"

Our church building on the hill is still relatively new, we finished it just a few years ago. But there is one tiny thing in it that could be considered a flaw, until you know the reason behind it. On one of the beautiful walls of our auditorium there is a dot. Of all things, it was made by a black permanent marker. It is not big at all. In fact, unless you were looking for it you would never see it. Nevertheless it is there, and it is very important to me and to the members of my church.

I know what you are probably thinking. "Typical; some rowdy child is defacing a church. The kid probably writes in the hymn books, too."

But that dot was not put there by some disrespectful child. In fact, I did it. Not by accident, either; I did it quite intentionally. I put it there a couple of years ago, right after a very precious young man from our church died in a tragic accident. I put it there to make a point to my grieving church, something that would help them. I hope for anyone reading this, who is grieving the loss of a saved loved one, the story of the dot might just help.

When we think of Heaven, if we are honest, our minds may hold some reservations about that place. All that we have ever really known is the here and now. The here and now is like the tiny dot on that wall. When I put my nose an inch away from that dot, my eyes cross to focus on it, and it becomes all that I see. I cannot see the chandeliers or the carpet or the padded chairs or the nice wood-work; all I can see is a dot. If I had stared at that dot my entire life, I would be very used to it and very comfortable with it. Anything outside of that dot would be unfamiliar to me, and therefore a bit scary.

But for those who do not have their noses an inch away from that dot, for those seated in the middle of the sanctuary, there is a whole new world to see; bigger, brighter, nicer in every way.

The Bible is our window to looking outside of the dot that is the here and now. And when we open that window to look, what do we find?

This place the Bible calls Heaven is truly amazing. We find that it has a capital city, the New Jerusalem, that is 1500 miles long, across, and high. This city is so remarkable, Revelation 21:10 tells us that it can travel through the air. We also find that this city is incredibly colorful, having twelve foundations, each one made of a solid slab of different precious stones. We find that each of the 12 gates are made of a single, giant pearl. We find streets of translucent gold. We find the most amazing river, big enough to qualify as a running ocean. We find food to eat; some coming off of the tree of life, other kinds being served to us by Jesus Himself. We find light, yet no shadows. The light comes from Jesus Himself and permeates the entire place.

We find in John 14 that the dwelling places in heaven are "many mansions." We also find that, perhaps most comforting of all, we will still know each other! In Matthew 17:3, thousands of years into their eternity, Moses and Elijah were still clearly recognizable as themselves. If you ever wondered if you would know the people that you are deeply missing right now, the clear answer is "Yes!"

We also find that we will not be bored. Truthfully, this seems to be the one thing people fear the most. Yet in Heaven, people are shown to be far more active than we are now here on Earth. In the Bible we see individuals serving, reigning, praising, traveling, singing, eating, and many other things. There is an entire universe out there, and we will have eternity to explore it. Boredom is an "Earth thing," not a "Heaven thing."

We also find from Scripture that nothing negative will be in that place. No more hurting, sinning, fearing, and finally no more tears. But what will be there is God Himself. The one that we have seen by faith, we will spend eternity seeing by sight.

When you think of Heaven, pull away from the dot and think big. And may I give you one other tip? Never be afraid to pray and say, "Lord, would you mind telling ... that I miss him and love him? Would you mind telling ... that I miss her and love her? The God of Heaven is never too overwhelmed to deliver messages, and I guarantee you not a one will be misplaced along the way.
